Hear yea hear yea, the weekend is over which means it's time for our next newsly edition!

[Announcement]

Check out the 2nd page of /345199 for your puzzle solving reward! There might be more coming this week, I've got to up my gif game.

[Question Corner]

@Fallon It doesn't have anything specific to do with your username but sometimes it really looks like it does. Like yours does kind of look like a claw. As for your 2nd question, that I don't believe we have on our list for

@Fossil I feel like this is a Tui question! If I do get to meet her in the future, I'll be sure to ask her.

@Lupa Admin Antonio is no longer here, but there are still a few oldies around. King Keith and Admax Gavin are both around, eating pizza. Bothering each other. Dancing (this is more Keith than Gavin).

@Leilei I can't give a specific time for anything new yet but it's part of the project we're working on.

@Pastel color fade is allowed! Sometimes siggies take a little while....but it's not because of the color fade so don't worry about that and make em as pretty as you want.

@Fennec oops. Have you managed to get the post you were talking about through yet or nah? If not, try resending it and I'll take a look. It's probably buried by now so I won't be able to find it.

@Angie I wouldn't try, mostly because we can't have certain words slip through the filter/be on the forum even if it's a test. I'd end up having to just delete the post if they did get through. Thanks for giving me a heads up though so if you still do try I'll know it's not because you've been hacked or really wanted to be banned off the forums :P I'd be sad if that were the case. Who would try to lead a rebellion against the mods if you weren't around?

[Forum Prompts]

-You open the book of fairy tales and are immediately teleported down into them. Wait...but the good guys are bad guys....and the bad guys are good guys? These don't seem like the tales you were told as a kid.

-It's your first time in Paris and you've gone to the Louvre. Suddenly you can hear whispers in the back of your mind. You realize you can hear and talk to the characters in the paintings and sculptures. You can now have conversations with these works of art created throughout the ages.

[Warnings]

@Stormfur you can't ask for people about external sites or give your own username for external sites.

@Bashful & others in the thread - It's fine to explain things like genders/sexualities, for one because I see a lot of terms in RPs with other forumers asking what they mean. I can also see the concerns about it as a volatile topic that has a history of turning into arguments here, so I have my eye on it in case it does turn into anything where people are disrespectful or mean. As long as it's educational and not a debate it's fine. Thanks to those who pinged me.

@Forest I'll answer real quick since I can see them in the filter right now!
For your Lydia PoV it's definitely a mistake it got caught. There's nothing bad in there. Posts like yours getting caught really boils my broccoli since there's no good reason for it. Try removing the "scars and cuts" phrase in appearance if that doesn't work you can also try removing "sore-loser."

For your "explain why you like the nickname" post it's the phrase "using google" that's getting caught. I know you're not directing anyone to search and just saying you used it but the filter is sensitive to these things.

Those are the two I see right now. Are there any others?

Hear yea hear yea, onwards and outwards - here's the news!

[Announcement]

Nothing to do with the forums but Shrek is being rebooted. That is all.

[Question Corner]

@Angie The sticked posts are semi-permanent (unless they get outdated/unstickied) so they'd all end up with so many stars that the stars would lose their meaning.

@Wild found it! It's probably those last four lines that are getting the post caught. I think they're lyrics but they could be read as a threat.

@Fallon the sig fade stuff is unfortunately not something I can really help with, because it's not a feature built into the forums. I'd try what Forest recommends and take some words out and just keep trying to submit it.

@Forest I can't find the account anywhere, it says it doesn't exist in our database and the only posts I can find mentioning it are the ones you've made with your current account. When did you create it? If you remember any keywords in any of the stories I can try searching for those too.

[Forum Prompts]

-A world where everything is in grayscale except your eyes. They're a bright, vivid color. Why?
-When you touch anything you can feel the history of the object. What do you do with this ability?

[Warnings]

@Stormfur you've been posting some strangely antagonistic comments towards other users, and derailing threads with off topic remarks and spam. Please be more respectful towards the other members of the forum. I'm giving you a 24 hr ban since this is your second warning.

@general you can't report people for coming into a "private/no stalkers/no crashers" thread. If someone is harassing you, it's one thing, but this is a public forum and there's not really an expectation for chat threads to stay between specific people only. You can ask politely for people to respect your space, and if someone is rude then you can report them, but don't use reporting as your own personal way to make a thread private.

@Singularity not really a warning, I just want to clarify since my last post got removed before you had a chance to read it I think. To sum it up - I said please keep the clickbait posts to a minimum. There were a few days where the front page was just full of clickbait posts and people had trouble finding the RPs and stories they'd made. A jokey post every once and a while is fine, just keep it under control. Also, I don't know if you have a homethread but that would be a fun way to have all your jokes in one place!

[Announcement]

I'm looking for your opinions over here /345776!
It's definitely not about our new project. Definitely not.

[Question Corner]

@Gleam I just found it, wow you tried to post this a month ago? I read through it and honestly I am bewildered as to why it was caught. It's really well written and nothing jumps out at me as being obvious filter-bait. I'd try splitting it up into sections, post just the Plot, then Gods, etc. One thing that may be possible is that "Akrsna" and other words you've come up with might be getting parsed as spam.

@Fennec I've been digging and really can't find it D: Have you tried submitting recently?

@Tesla I'm not sure when I just was told by...
some*BODY*

@Nova So whenever you close your browser you have to re-login in everytime?
@everyone has anyone else been having this issue?

@Forest It's possible, I can't find the Crystal Mountain Academy RP either. If it was really old it's possible it could've been deleted at some point though that would've been before my time.

@Fallon I'd try splitting it up, yeah. It also may have to do with that first paragraph of what the Light Elementals are seeing.

[Forum Prompts]

-You think a meteorite has landed in your backyeard. You run outside after hearing the giant BOOM of it landing, but instead of the traditional grey stone you expected, you realize what's landed is a small furry creature. It seems a little woozy (what wouldn't after crash landing on earth?) but it starts to uncurl itself and look up at you...

-You are a Collector, you move through the universe collecting rare and unique objects from a variety of planets and alien civilizations. You didn't realize, but you ended up with something very dangerous and very ancient in your possession...
